Relocates After 20 Years In Peoria

PHOENIX, ARIZONA (August 26, 2020) – After 20 years of calling Peoria their hometown, TWD said goodbye to its historic building and design showroom in downtown Peoria. Originally purchased in 2006 when they outgrew their prior space, this location allowed the business the room it needed to grow into the full-service remodeling company that they are today. Anyone that has been to Peoria had likely driven by their place. Located next door to Habitat for Humanity for many years in the heart of downtown, it was a difficult decision to move. Their building at 9201 W. Grand Avenue by the 101 Freeway off-ramp, was seen by everyone. The big TWD sign on the South side of the road still remains today until the new owners have it updated, however the business is unfortunately no longer there.

“It was time for a change”, states Jamie Whittaker, Co-Owner of TWD. “This was something that we had considered for the greater part of 2019. It weighed heavy on us as business owners, but at the end of the day we knew that we wanted to kick off the start of 2020 in a big way, and what better way to do that than with a brand new office suite.”

At the beginning of the year, Todd Whittaker and the team began their next chapter of their 24 years in business by relocating to a new office in Phoenix. Now more centrally located, they have built a new design showroom at 2400 W. Union Hills, Suite 110 right off of the I-17 Freeway, near the 101 Freeway interchange. “Our service area has always included Scottsdale, Anthem, and the other Greater Phoenix cities,” says Todd. “This allows us to be easily accessible to all of our customers no matter what side of town they live on.”

The past few months, they’ve been working on new product displays, stunning vignettes, and bringing in the most current material samples. By visiting the showroom and meeting with one of their experienced designers, you can see and choose the material selections for your remodel project without running all over town. This is just one cost-saving benefit that you get when you work with the friendly staff at TWD.
